

A woman with light brown hair tied back, wearing a blue polka-dot polo shirt, is shown in profile. She has her right hand pressed against her forehead, looking down with a stressed or frustrated expression. The background is blurred, suggesting an indoor setting.

*I don't understand.
I've always tried to do
the right thing.*

Centrelink's automated debt system is still sending out letters to people who have done nothing wrong.

If you're one of them you're not alone.

If you don't believe the debt is fair you can challenge it.

To find out more visit notmydebt.com.au